

Xtorm XB2: winner of the Red Dot Design Award 2017

Awards flooding in for XB2 Power Banks

Houten, 3 April 2017 – Xtorm, manufacturer of mobile charging solutions, is winner of the Red Dot Design Award 2017 in the category Product Design. Xtorm received this prestigious design award for its innovative XB2 Power Banks.

The Red Dot Design Award is a globally recognised design award which, this year, received entries from 54 countries. The international jury, comprising 40 experts in the field of design, judged the entries on such criteria as innovation, functionality, quality and sustainability. The Xtorm XB2 Power Banks won the Red Dot Design Award for their distinctive design, which sets them apart from similar products on the market.

The awarded XB2 product line consists of three Power Banks that enable charging of mobile devices anytime and anywhere. The Power Banks Travel, Explore and Discover are made of high quality materials and have respective capacities of 6,700mAh, 10,000mAh and 17,000mAh.

The Power Banks in the XB2 line have been cleverly designed incorporating innovative charging technologies, such as Quick Charge 3.0 and USB-C (Discover). Moreover, the removable cable is very handy as you can't forget it and it means you can charge your mobile devices whenever you need to.

The XB2 line recently received the world renowned iF Design Award for 2017. With two leading design awards in the pocket, the future looks promising for the Xtorm XB2 Power Banks.

Price and availability

The recommended retail prices of Xtorm Power Banks are € 45 (Travel), €65 (Explore) and € 85 (Discover). The Power Banks are available from various (online) stores and Xtorm.eu. Xtorm offers two years guarantee and unlimited helpdesk support on all its products.
